CATÓLICA
DE CHILE

Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile has a strong alumni network and some of the best alumni relations in Latin America. By 2026, Universidad Católica de Chile aims to reach an endowment level of 75 million USD (currently at 60 million USD).

WHAT IS THE DONOR STRUCTURE AT UNIVERSIDAD CATÓLICA DE CHILE?

STRUCTURE OF ENDOWMENT

The main donors are:

- The largest corporations (50%),
- The country's wealthiest individuals (40%),
- Individual alumni (10%). A significant contribution comes from around 15 families who support the fund on a regular basis.

The fund is managed by the undergraduate faculty and the entire initiative has strong support from the whole university.

Alumni engagement:

- The university engages alumni through formal associations and organized events.
- Regular events are held for each graduating class to maintain connections.
- Alumni circles, such as the Women MBA Alumni and Mining MBA Alumni (200–300 members), foster community and involvement.

The university runs a Mentorship Program in which alumni are matched with experienced mentors from their industry. Small and medium-sized enterprises (excluding start-ups) particularly benefit from this mentoring, as alumni support helps them grow their operations, draw on industry-specific knowledge, and establish valuable business connections.
